

CRACK GARDEN

SAN FRANCISCO, CA

Project Description

The hostile takeover of a concrete urban backyard by imposing a series of jackhammer "cracks". Inspired by the tenacious plants that pioneer the tiny cracks of the urban landscape, the formal rows of this garden create order in the random and mixed planting of herbs, vegetables, strange flowers and rogue weeds.

Client

565 14th Street Group

Awards

2009 ASLA Professional Awards, Residential Design, Honor Award

2008 ASLA Professional Awards, Northern California Chapter, Merit Award

CMG
CONGER MOSS GUILLARD
landscape architecture